

I was deeply disturbed to hear of the request of various banks to strip Indiana's law of important provisions that restrict telemarketing calls to our homes. PLEASE deny their request. We have so enjoyed not being bothered by telemarketers primarily during the dinnertime hour and are distressed that banks would be taking the action they are to try to water down or eliminate the Do Not Call Law.